

Rainfall is the amount of precipitation usually measured by the depth in millimeters.

Rainy day refers to the period where precipitation occurs at any time of the day.